Litigation can be complex and stressful. This is something that the ever-talented Brian Levy understands better than most. Indeed, he uses his extensive experience in the litigation field to minimize disruptions to your business operations and position your organization to achieve the most favorable outcome in the underlying dispute. For this, Brian Levy is widely considered one of the most respected attorneys for business and employment cases. Brian Levy is here to support employers across all manner of cases, including discrimination, harassment, retaliation, whistleblowers, wage and hour, breach of fiduciary duty, non-compete, and breach of contract.

One of the main differentiators between Brian Levy and other attorneys is his ability to position his clients to prevail in court while avoiding the costs associated with court proceedings wherever possible. While going to court may sometimes be a necessary expense, Brian actively works to support business organizations in avoiding this struggle, instead negotiating with the employee and their legal team to find a suitable resolution for all parties more affordably and cost-effectively – ideal for businesses that don't have thousands to burn on legal fees!

With years of experience behind him and a unique experience and educational history, Brian Levy is undeniably one of the most skilled attorneys in the state. In fact, with experience in both federal and state trial and appeals courts, Brian's knowledge is almost second-to-none.

Having achieved a Bachelor of Science degree In Communication Studies with a specialization in corporate communication from the University of Texas at Austin, he is uniquely skilled and qualified to tackle employment-related cases because he understands organizational communication. He earned his Juris Doctorate from the University of Houston Law Center by graduating early, which demonstrates his ability to master complex legal concepts quickly.
