Biography

Matthew is an Associate in the firm's Litigation Practice Group, representing clients in municipal liability, New York Labor Law, and transportation-related matters. He handles all aspects of litigation, including case assessment, discovery, motion practice, depositions, trial preparation, and settlement negotiations. Known for his thorough preparation and practical problem-solving approach, Matthew is dedicated to delivering efficient, strategic representation tailored to each client's unique needs and goals.

Drawing on experience across a variety of litigation matters, Matthew assists clients in navigating complex legal and procedural issues from the outset of a case through resolution. His practice is focused on developing practical strategies that effectively address clients' immediate concerns while advancing their long-term objectives.

Matthew earned his J.D. from St. John's University School of Law in 2025, where he served as a Senior Staff Member of both the American Bankruptcy Institute Law Review and the Commercial Division Online Report. He received a full Dean's Scholarship and was recognized with the Student Leadership Award for his work with the Federal Bar Association. He holds a B.A. in Theology and Political Science from Boston College.

Outside of the office, Matthew enjoys classic video games, participating in local trivia nights, and playing percussion in community orchestras.
